INTELLIGENCE SCHOOL REPORT

New Activities Presented from 1 April 1960 to 30 September 1960

25X1A9A

1. Mr. [] has been delegated the responsibility of keeping informed on automatic instructional devices and techniques within the government and within educational institutions.

2. Effective 1 July 1960, the Agency typewriting standards were changed to conform to the accuracy and speed scale used by the Civil Service Commission. The departure from the previously accepted qualifying net score of 40 words a minute put into effect the sliding scale of maximum errors permitted on specified gross scores.

3. A new version of the old Intelligence Research (Maps) Course was offered by the Intelligence Production Faculty for the first time from 6 through 24 June 1960. The new version, titled Intelligence Research (Map and Photo Reading), not only made substantial changes in the map reading portion of the course, but also added instruction on photographic intelligence. In addition, a special short orientation course in the Exploitation of Photography was offered at the request of the Technical Services Division from 16 through 19 August 1960.

4. The Intelligence Orientation Faculty has organized an Intelligence Review course for senior production analysts to be presented for the first time 24 October 1960. The course will be repeated four times a year.

5. The Management Training Faculty is involved in administrative preparations for a new management course for GS-15's and super grades to be presented for the first time 10 October 1960. This course will be conducted by a professor from the Harvard School of Business.

6. New "In-Box" support problems have been prepared by the Operations Support Faculty. The solutions of the "In-Box" problems will test the students' ability to use the regulations and common sense essential in solving field station situations.
